GENERAL RULES

1. Photocopies of documents may be provided subject to the absolute discretion of the Research Room supervisor that photocopying presents no risk of damage to the documents.
2. Photocopies of pages from bound items will not be provided under any circumstances. These include notebooks, pamphlets, periodicals and journals, as well as larger bound volumes.
3. In the case of bound items where photocopies cannot be provided because of risk of damage, it will usually be possible to provide digital images.
4. Copies of photographs from collections may be provided as digital images. Photographs will not be photocopied.
5. Schedule of charges:
  - Photocopies 50c per page
  - Digital scans €10 (1-5 images); €25 (5-10 images); €50 (10+ images). Excessive requests will be costed at the discretion of the archivist.

REQUESTING COPIES

1. When requesting photocopies of original documents, do not remove the documents from their file or folder. Indicate the pages to be copied by folding one of the paper marking strips provided around them. Pages from volumes to be photographed should be indicated in the same way.
2. All requests for copies and photographs must be made on a copy request form. More than one item may be requested on the same form. The form includes a declaration that the copies will be used for research and private study only.

3. All copy request forms must indicate the number of pages to be copied. Payment must be received before copies are produced.

COPYRIGHT

1. Archives are copyright and are subject to the restrictions on reproduction and publication included in the Copyright and Related Rights Act, 2000.
2. A single copy of a document may be provided under Section 67 of the Act provided that a researcher requesting a copy of a document signs a declaration that the copy is for the purposes of research or private study only and that it will not be used for any other purpose. The signed declaration is a requirement under Statutory Instrument 427 of 2000.
3. Offaly History Archives owns and administers the copyright for the vast majority of collections in its holdings. In some cases, where material has been temporarily deposited in the Archives, Offaly History Archives cannot give permission for quotation from or publication of images from those collections. It is the researcher's responsibility to secure the permission of the copyright owner and comply with copyright law in all other respects.

USE OF DIGITAL CAMERAS

1. Use of imaging devices, including, but not restricted to, digital cameras, smartphones, and tablets, is forbidden. Digital scans of documents may be ordered through the archivist on duty.
